EXPERIENCE...

The Ann S. Lucas Community Service Summer Internship Program encourages students in higher education to pursue outreach work in urban areas during summer months.

A stipend of up to $3,000 will be awarded to a University of Redlands student completing service with an agency working with under-served and under-represented children in any urban area in the United States.

“These partnerships provide financial support for students participating in the University’s long time successful community service programs. Specifically, they offer support for underserved youth in disadvantaged communities. I am privileged to partner with the University to develop these service learning experiences.”

—Ann S. Lucas

OUTREACH...

Internships will engage students in meaningful outreach, allowing them to move beyond previous knowledge and experience, yet requiring accountability.

Students are encouraged to work in hands-on supervisory, managerial, tutorial, or administrative positions within non-profit agencies serving inner city or suburban populations. To gain the most from summer placement experiences, and in the spirit of service learning, both preparatory and reflection exercises are required of Lucas summer interns.

UNLIMITED POSSIBILITIES...

Here are several agency placement ideas for your internship experience:

- *Teach a class in the arts – music, drawing, dance, theater, poetry, journal keeping.
- *Facilitate English classes with non-English speaking parents and youth.
- *Organize sports and recreation activities.
- *Work with teams of kids to beautify a building or community center – cleaning, painting, gardening.

SELF DISCOVERY...

"Volunteering as a counselor at camp Korey was a magical experience. I loved seeing the campers escape the worries of the everyday life. They were able to just be kids. It was truly a blessing getting to see the kids accomplish things that the climbing wall that they never thought was possible".
