The Community School of Music and the Arts was founded in 1981 by the University of Redlands to provide quality year-round musical instruction for children and adults. CSMA is committed to providing affordable lessons to all applicants by highly qualified instructors. The faculty includes the professional artist faculty (full-time and adjunct) of the University of Redlands, outstanding instructors from the Inland Empire, and qualified undergraduate and graduate students pursuing professional music degrees.

With an enrollment of over 400 students and 40+ instructors, the CSMA offers instruction in wind and string instruments, percussion, piano, voice, guitar, harp, Suzuki piano and violin, Early Childhood Music, and several Youth orchestras. Housed on the University of Redlands campus, the CSMA uses School of Music facilities and resources for its programs.

The CSMA is proud to be able to prepare young musicians for their future musical goals: college degrees, participation in professional ensembles, as enlightened audiences and enjoyment of music in general.

Early Childhood Music

and

Movement Classes

Sponsored by:

The Community School of Music
& the Arts at the University of Redlands

Family Music for Toddlers:

Participate with your toddler in singing, chanting, moving, dancing, listening and playing simple instruments - while developing a strong musical bond with your child. Through activities that bridge the natural connection between music and movement, your child's musical aptitude and listening abilities are enhanced and further developed.

Cycle of Seasons:

Celebrate your child's love of nature and growing independence through activities which focus on the seasons of the year. Classes are designed to build attention and self-expression and include singing, chanting, moving, focused listening, musical games, exploring musical instruments, creative movement, and storytelling.
